MEMO ENDORSED

Re: Request for Reconsideration
United States v. Thomas T. Prousalis, Jr., S1 03 Cr 1509 (DLC)

Dear Judge Cote:

On March 21, 2011, the Court denied my pending foreign travel request for business and family purposes. However, the Court ruled without the benefit of my Reply to the Government's Response to Pending Request to Travel Abroad, filed with the Court on March 22, 2011, and my Supplement to Reply to the Government's Response to Pending Request, filed with the Court on March 23, 2011. Edward M. Kratt, Esq. and I received the Government's response, filed with the Court on March 17, 2011, via Fedex on March 21, 2011, even though the Government has our e-mail addresses. We believe that the Government's delay in providing us with a timely response prejudiced the Court's ability to consider all of the facts in this matter, as outlined in my reply and supplement, and we respectfully ask the Court to reconsider its decision.

Also, enclosed is a copy of my amended Travel Request Form filed this date with Senior U.S. Probation Officer Charles E. Moore by way of this letter. Briefly, the travel request pertains to travel to Struga, Macedonia, over the Easter holiday in order for my father to join me in meeting my fiancée-to-be and her family, including her aunts and uncles, and her grandparents, which is an important Eastern Orthodox custom prior to an engagement, and to celebrate Easter together. This is strictly a family matter and no business will be conducted during the visit. Mr. Moore will be able to have 24/7 contact with me (and my father) via telephone, SMS and e-mail during the visit. This Easter visit has been in the planning stages for a year, and it is very important to us and our families.

Thank you for your reconsideration.

The amended request for foreign travel is denied.

*Denise Cote
April 6, 2011*

Sincerely,

Thomas T. Prousalis, Jr.
